

Scholarships to study at Dalian University of Technology

Dalian University of Technology (DUT) is one of the key national universities administrated directly under the Ministry of Education of China, which is also sponsored by national projects including the 211 Project, the 985 Project and the "Double First Class" Initiative. Students including undergraduates, master students and doctoral students from the U.S., European countries and other countries and regions except Canada, especially from the world-known universities can apply for the Chinese Government Scholarships from Ministry of Education of China as well as the DUT scholarship to study at DUT in terms of the associated agreement between DUT and foreign universities.

DUT with foreign universities shall submit the funding application to Ministry of Education of China by 31st May, 2019. After the 15th July, 2019 Ministry of Education of China will announce whether the application is successfully approved or not.

Major requirements of the application for the scholarships are as follows:

(1). Study period: September 1, 2019 - August 31, 2020

U. S. students shall study at DUT for at least one month, while students from other countries and regions shall study at DUT for at least three months.

(2). There must be a valid university-level agreement on the study program with the term mentioned the home university will admit and transfer the students' credits earned at DUT.

(3). The European universities may recommend their students who hold European passports, while other universities may recommend their students who must be the nationals of the home country of the universities.

The content of the scholarships are:

(4). The students who are successfully granted the scholarship will receive: free accommodation on campus (double room for undergraduate and master students, single room for doctoral students), and living allowance (2,500 RMB/month for undergraduate student, 3,000 RMB/month for master students, 3,500 RMB/month for doctoral students). In addition, if the students' home university or his/her major at the home university ranks top 200 in the world according to any of the ranking systems among QS, THE, AWRU, and US News & World Report, undergraduate students with GPA no less than 3.5 may get DUT scholarship up to 10,000 RMB round-trip travel fees, master and doctoral students may get DUT scholarship up to 5,000 RMB round-trip travel fees (if it is not enough for the round-trip travel fees, the students or supervisors are expected to cover the rest cost).